

Tech Info Library

A/UX: Specifying the Startup Program File

Revised: 10/1/92
Security: Everyone

A/UX: Specifying the Startup Program File

=====

Article Created: 11 October 1990

Article Change History

08/31/92 - REVIEWED

- For technical accuracy.

TOPIC -----

How do you specify the file in which startup programs are listed?

DISCUSSION -----

The Autoconfig command's "-S" flag option puts a list of startup programs in the specified file.

Example command line: autoconfig -S /etc/startups.list

This command line will cause Autoconfig to put a list of the startup programs into the file /etc/startups.list.

Copyright 1990 Apple Computer, Inc.

Tech Info Library Article Number:6252