

Tech Info Library

Apple IIfc: Use Mouse Designed for IIfc (11/94)

Revised: 11/8/94
Security: Everyone

Apple IIfc: Use Mouse Designed for IIfc (11/94)

=====
Article Created: 12 April 1991
Article Reviewed/Updated: 08 November 1994

TOPIC -----

I have a question concerning the "platinum" Apple IIfc and a mouse. When I'm using the mouse, the cursor starts at the top-left corner and moves straight down to the bottom-left corner of the screen. Why?

DISCUSSION -----

You have come across an incompatibility in mouse timing. The mouse sold for the Apple IIfc works properly, and mice received from service work properly. However, mice that came from Macintosh Plus systems sometimes work and sometimes not, depending on the manufacturer.

To assure proper operation, make sure you use a mouse that was designed for use with the IIfc.

Article Change History:
08 Nov 1994 - Reviewed for technical accuracy.

Support Information Services

Copyright 1991-94 Apple Computer, Inc.

Tech Info Library Article Number:7522