Backlit Macintosh Portable: System 6 Requires Control Panel 1.3

TOPIC -----------------------------------------------------------

The backlit Macintosh Portable requires a new Control Panel document to adjust the intensity of the back lighting. Where can I get the new control Panel?

DISCUSSION ------------------------------------------------------

Version 1.3 of the Macintosh Portable Control Panel is required for the backlit Macintosh Portable with System 6.0.x.  It wasn't included with System 6.0.7.  If you're using System 6.0.7 or System 7.0.x, you can use the Brightness control panel to adjust the brightness.

Version 1.3 of the Macintosh Portable control panel shipped only with new Macintosh Portable computers, or with the Macintosh Portable Backlight Screen Upgrade, but is now available on AppleLink.  Please see the article
"Macintosh Portable: Use Macintosh Portable INIT with Modem", the control panel is attached to that article.
