

Tech Info Library

LocalTalk: Additional Cable Grounding Not Needed

Revised: 9/13/91
Security: Everyone

LocalTalk: Additional Cable Grounding Not Needed

=====

Article Created: 13 August 1991
Article Last Reviewed:
Article Last Updated:

TOPIC -----

I'm connecting my Macintosh networks with shielded twisted-pair cable.
What is the best way to ground this cable?

DISCUSSION -----

There's no need to provide any additional grounding for LocalTalk cabling.
The shield is already grounded to chassis.

Copyright 1991 Apple Computer, Inc.

Tech Info Library Article Number:8672