TOPIC -----------------------------------------------------------

This article describes Travelrama, CD-ROM based entertainment software.

DISCUSSION ------------------------------------------------------

Travelrama is CD-ROM based entertainment software for ages nine to adult.  It is a multi-player game where each player "travels" across the US collecting postcards and learning geography at the same time.  Each player can adjust their individual level of play.

Travelrama was originally distributed and supported by Apple Computer's StarCore group. Customers that acquired Travelrama from StarCore or received it bundled with an Apple product can still receive up and running technical support from Apple Computer's Applications support group at 800-767-2775 (800-SOS-APPL).

Apple Computer no longer distributes TravelRama, however, customers can purchase it from Zenda Studios. Zenda Studios provides technical support to those customers that purchase the software from them.
