CloseView: Does Not Magnify Video Monitor Window (5/95)

=====================================================================

Article Created: 26 May 1995

TOPIC -----------------------------------------------------------

I am visually impaired and want to use CloseView to magnify the Video Monitor window. I have a Power Macintosh (8011/80 AV) running System 7.5. How  How do I do this?

DISCUSSION ------------------------------------------------------

CloseView works on a Power Macintosh running System 7.5, but it does not magnify the Video Monitor window. Apple is aware of the problem and has it under investigation.

Workaround
----------
You can view magnified video input using Apple Video Player and CloseView. This workaround does not work in thousands of colors, but it does work in 256 and 16 colors.

Please note that Apple Video Player has not been tested on a Power Macintosh and this configuration is not supported by Apple at this time.
